

SENATE DEFINES MODERN RULES OF USE OF HIGHWAY

Lighted Vehicles Called For—Incompetent Drivers Are Banned.

Hartford, April 8.—The Senate yesterday passed a bill defining the rules of the road, the first attempt of the sort since the advent of motor vehicles. The act follows:

Rules of the Road.

Section 1.—The term "vehicle" when used in this act shall apply to all vehicles except those which are designed to be propelled by hand, and shall include bicycles, tricycles, motor vehicles, motor cycles and all vehicles drawn by horses or other animals but shall not include such vehicles as are run only upon rails or tracks.

Sec. 2.—Every person walking in the traveled portion of a public highway, or riding, driving, or leading a horse or other animal therein, when meeting another person walking, or riding, driving, or leading a horse or other animal, or driving or operating a vehicle, shall slacken his pace, if necessary, and seasonably turn to the right so as to give half of the traveled road, if practicable, and a fair and equal opportunity to pass, to the other; or, if both are moving in the same direction, the person overtaking shall pass on the left side of the person overtaken, and the person overtaken shall turn to the right so as to give half of the traveled road and a free passage on the left to the other. The person or vehicle thus overtaking another, and passing to the left of the one overtaken, shall do so subject to the right of way of those traveling in an opposite direction from his own and meeting him at the point where he is to pass the person or vehicle overtaken. Every person or vehicle shall, at the intersection of public highways, keep to the right of the intersection of the center of such highways, when turning to the right, and pass to the right of such intersection when turning to the left.

Sec. 3.—Every vehicle, whether stationary or in motion, on any public highway or bridge, shall have attached to it a light or lights which shall be so displayed as to be visible from the front and the rear during the period from one-half hour after sunset until one-half hour before sunrise. Such light or lights shall be of sufficient illuminating power to be visible at a distance of 200 feet, provided this section shall not apply to any vehicle designed for the transportation of less than one-half ton, or to any vehicle loaded with such freight nor shall it affect the provisions of any existing statute or regulation requiring lights on motor vehicles.

Sec. 4.—Upon the written application and the presentation of sufficient reasons therefor by the owner of a vehicle, the secretary of state may, in writing, and in such form and subject to such requirements as he may, without expense to the applicant, exempt said vehicle from the provisions of section 3 of this act for such period of time as said secretary may elect.

Sec. 5.—Any person driving, in charge of, or occupying any vehicle during the period from one-half hour after sunset until one-half hour before sunrise, who shall refuse, when requested by a police officer, sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable, or any proper officer of a town, to give his correct name and address, shall be fined not more than $25.

Sec. 6.—If the owner of any horse or other animal, or of any vehicle, shall entrust such animal or vehicle to an agent, bailee, servant, or employee to be ridden, led, driven, or operated by such agent, bailee, servant, or employee upon the public highways of this state, or shall rent or loan the same to an incompetent or inexperienced person to be thus ridden, led, driven, or operated, and such agent, bailee, servant, or employee, while in the execution of such duties or business within the scope of his authority, or such incompetent or inexperienced person, as a result of such incompetency and inexperience, shall, by neglecting to conform to any provision of Section 2 or 3 of this act, cause any injury to the person or property of another, or shall negligently collide with another, thereby causing such injury, such owner shall pay to the party injured his actual damages and costs; but in every case the party injured shall elect whether he shall proceed against such owner under the provisions of this act, or against the person actually causing such injury under the provision of Section 7 of this act.

Sec. 7.—Every person who shall, by neglecting to conform to any provision of Section 2 or 3 of this act, cause any injury to the person or property of another, or shall negligently collide with another, thereby causing such injury, shall pay to the party injured double the amount of such damages, or, in the discretion of the judge of the court in which the action is pending, shall be met, with the costs of such action.

Sec. 8.—Every person riding on, propelling, driving, or directing any vehicle upon a public street or highway, who shall run against, upon, or over any person upon such public street or highway, or the property of any person, in his personal possession or use, in such manner as to injure such person or property, shall not stop at once to ascertain the extent of such injury and to render such assistance as may be needed, or shall refuse to give his name and address, or shall give a false name or address, when the same is asked for by the person so injured or by any other person in his behalf, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned in the county jail not more than six months, or both.

Sec. 9.—All officers having authority to make arrests who shall have knowledge of a violation of any provision of this act shall report such violation to the proper prosecuting officer or arrest the offender and cause presentation of such offender before a court or justice of the peace having jurisdiction of the offense. Any such officer who shall fail to report such violation to the proper prosecuting officer or make such arrest shall forfeit ten dollars to any person who shall, within 90 days after the commission of such offense, bring suit therefor.

Sec. 10.—Section 1304 of the General Statutes, Chapter 216 of the Public Acts of 1906, as amended by Chapter 289 of the Public Acts of 1909, and Chapter 136 of the Public Acts of 1912, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 11.—This act shall take effect July 1, 1915.

The Rev. James R. Carrigan, a Roman Catholic priest of Pittsburgh, was found dead at Chelsea Hotel, New York.

It's General Cody Now; Buffalo Bill Gets An Office in Wyoming

Denver, April 8.—Buffalo Bill has been appointed judge advocate general of the military forces of Wyoming. The appointment was made by Governor Kendrick. He has relinquished the title of colonel and from now on will be known as General William F. Cody. General Cody takes his new honors modestly. When he got the commission from the governor's secretary he said, "I appreciate this honor conferred on me by my friend, Governor Kendrick just as I appreciate each and all of the honors conferred on me."

SEMI-CENTENARY OF SURRENDER OF LEE TO GRANT AT APPOMATTOX.

The few survivors of the once mighty host of the Grand Army of the Republic will celebrate Appomattox Day with unusual enthusiasm today, for this is the semi-centennial of the surrender of Gen. Lee to Gen. Grant at the little village of Appomattox Court House, Va. When the brilliant and able military chieftain of the Confederate forces tendered his sword to the leader of the armies of the North on that April day fifty years ago the greatest war of modern times, save that now raging in Europe, was practically ended.

In that bloody and terrible struggle between brothers of the same blood Grant had proved himself one of the most brilliant soldiers of all time, but the military genius of the victor was scarcely superior to that of the vanquished Lee. Grant proved his magnanimity as well as his soldierly qualities on that historic day. He handed back Lee's proffered sword, and told the Confederate soldiers to keep their horses, as they would need the animals in making a crop. Lee's first thought was for food for his ragged and half-starved soldiers, and Gen. Grant's first order to his orderly was that the hungry Confederates be fed. The strictly military but magnanimous terms offered by Grant went far to reconcile the gallant sons of the South to their defeat.

Grant's military career, which reached its triumphant climax at Appomattox half a century ago today, had not been particularly brilliant prior to the civil war. He was twenty first in a class of thirty-nine at West Point, a day the obscure country town clerk was the leader of a million armed men and hailed as the greatest general of his time and one of the greatest of all time.

The Clover Hill of Appomattox county, Virginia, where history was made fifty years ago today, is now a patriotic Mecca for the younger generation of both sections of the reunited nation. Monuments mark the scenes of the momentous conflict which terminated the strife of four bloody years.

Grant's career as the commander of all the Union forces commenced in March of 1864, and it took him just a little more than a year to fight his way to the final victory at Appomattox. "Slowly but surely he surrounded the Confederate armies with a cordon of blue. On the second of April, 1865, Richmond was evacuated, and Lee began a retreat toward Lynchburg. When twenty miles east of that city the Confederate leader realized that further fighting was but a waste of human life.

PROTECTION AGAINST CLOTHES MOTHS.

Camphor, Tar Paper, Cedar Chests, and Other Preventatives Useless When Eggs Are Present.

Washington, April 9.—The various substances used to keep away moths, however, lessens with age, so that the protection it affords is greatly decreased after a few years. For this reason when furs and other valuable garments are wrapped in tarred paper or placed in sacks of tanned paper these containers should be renewed every year or two.

In general moths are likely to affect only articles which are put away and left undisturbed for some little time. Apartments and clothes that are frequently aired and swept are not apt to be seriously affected. In fact airing and sunlight are probably the best as well as the oldest remedies. Where circumstances demand that the articles be put away, however, a convenient and effective device is to place them in large pasteboard boxes such as tailors use and gum a strip of wrapping paper around the edge so as to seal up the box completely and leave no cracks.

If the garments have been thoroughly cleaned before being placed in these boxes, no additional protection is necessary and there is none of the objectionable odor which is characteristic of so many moth repellents. For valuable articles the safest plan is to place them in cold storage. Recent experiments have shown that the larvae of the clothes moth will resist for a long time low temperatures if these are uniform, but that the alternation of low and high temperatures quickly results in death. It is recommended therefore that storage companies submit their goods to two or three changes, varying the temperature from about 18 degrees F. to 40 or 50 degrees, Fahrenheit. After this preliminary treatment, they should be kept permanently at about 40 degrees Fahrenheit. Any lower temperature is a needless expense.

From Feb. 20 to March 31, the pet income of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Co. was $26,102.65.

Sizes for Men and Young Men

31 to 46, Including Stouts

New Spring models, including the English close-fitting style with wide and medium lapels, as well as conservative styles; some with patch pockets. The new Glen Urquhart plaids, narrow pencil stripes, fancy blue and brown, worsteds, plain gray chevrons and clay worsteds, all wool blue serges; endless variety of fancy chevrons in neat and conservative designs.

Do You Know That We Have Suits Whose Quality No Man Can Improve You Should See Our Lines at $15, $17.50 and $20

Many men have been under the impression that we carried only medium priced grades. That's because we have made the mistake of featuring seven-fifty and ten-dollar suits. It's our mistake—and yours, too; for common sense will teach you that if we can give all wool suits at $7.50 our $15 to $20 lines must be beyond competition and they are.

Last Saturday a customer said: "Your Suits at $15, $17.50 and $20 are wonders. I didn't know you had such clothes."

That's why we mention them to-day. Why, suiting mills can't produce fabrics better than those in our higher-priced garments—and custom tailors can't surpass their workmanship. It will do your heart good to see the new spring patterns and models.

ALL BOYS' PARENTS READ THIS!

If you've never bought your boy a suit at the Surprise Store it's because you have never seen our assortment and the kind of clothing we carry. It is an absolute fact that the same styles and qualities displayed in the high-priced or so-called exclusive stores can be bought in any of the Five Surprise Stores at savings of 15 to 25 per cent. Remember, a fancy label in a coat doesn't add to the wearing quality of the coat one iota—but you pay extra when you get one, nevertheless.

Killed Husband Who Used Jap Tricks on Her

St. Louis, April 9.—For 13 years Mrs. Mary Highley was subjected to abuse by her husband, Jefferson L. Highley, the ju jitsu expert of the St. Louis police department, and used the tricks of the Japs to torture her, she said today.

Yesterday he took her into a room and twisted and tossed her until she screamed with pain. Five minutes later she shot him dead. "I loved him, but I have lived in purgatory," she wept in a cell after the shooting. "We had our little family quarrels. Then he learned this ju jitsu. From that time on he seemed to take delight in using the Japanese torture on me. There is not a mark on my body—but there can be no greater pain than I was subjected to."
